

The Gleason Report
23 September 2016

I've been silent the last few months simply observing the propaganda news. I'm not going to recommend any stocks or investment strategies because I don't believe the markets are honest. I believe that at least 30% of liquid assets should be held in gold/silver until things normalize. Physical metal in your personal possession is key. For IRA money consider CEF, PHYS, and a few others that hold 100% allocated metals. Do not use pool accounts or GLD unless you're a trader. You can use GoldMoney for transactional holdings www.goldmoney.com

I don't believe the US dollar will go to zero or that the stock market will collapse 80%. I don't know what will happen. I do know there's reason to be very cautious because near everything we're told is false. I am not a Trump supporter because I don't see the guy as having any plan whatsoever. That's not a putdown because I don't have an answer either.

I think it's important to understand the extent of the media lies. Then you won't feel the need to get confirmation from celebrity types before taking protective action. Understand this, they don't care about you.

Big Change is Coming

Over that past several years we've heard predictions by smart people popular in the alternative media that the dollar is doomed and the end is nigh. The establishment people scoff at that idea and rightly say that no other currency has the financial depth and reach of the dollar. Both are right. I do think the evidence is right before us that something big is about to happen.

I think both the alternative and establishment economists are making a mistake in seeing the change as a linear sequence of events like past financial evolutions. It's more likely to be transformational where a break occurs and the old way is diminished but continues to operate. There's good reason to think this way.

I was one of the first commentators to state the markets are not real. Today we have leading establishment financial people saying that all the major markets are rigged. Bill Gross is one but the list of hedge fund guys and economists is quite long who openly state that governments are manipulating the markets. Ask yourself why. The conventional thinking is they are trying to prevent a market accident that could result in a stock market crash, a derivatives blow-up, or a series of banking failures. Thus central bank interventions are needed they say until economic growth returns and markets can then be re-allowed to float. I think the real reason is because the US economic data is fraudulent. The GDP, jobs numbers, growth projections – all bogus. The markets are being held in stasis for the election.

43 million Americans are on food stamps. 95 million people of working age have dropped out of the labor force. 50% of young people aged 25-34 are living with their parents because they can't earn an independent living. DC tells us the unemployment rate is 4.8% which is impossible considering the above disheartening facts. Corporations are buying their own stock because there's nowhere to invest their earned capital. This has all the markings of an imminent social collapse.

At this time my S&P500 timing model is still in the stock market. In 2001 and 2008 the markets were brought down near the presidential election. This is the logical timing because it can't hurt a lame duck president or the newly elected. This time the economic lies are bigger, the market is higher, governments are buying stocks and bonds, and the markets are rigged. A stock market collapse this time means a total loss of confidence in the leadership. Once the election is over, it will likely deflate and the economic reality will hit hard. That will be the beginning.

Currency Changes Ahead

Some expect the International Monetary Fund to offer an SDR backed world currency that will take pressure off individual currencies. On the fringe there are expectations of a gold-backed Chinese Yuan that will take world reserve currency status away from the dollar.

You can see that what's coming is extremely negative for the United States. The Washington crowd is in a state of abject fear. We only have to look at the collusion of the major media with the DC establishment to see that they've pulled out all the stops and are openly manipulating public perception to maintain control of power in the hands of the rich US elites. They aren't afraid of Donald Trump the man. They are afraid he's the beginning of a shift away from the two political parties and dissolution of control by the wealthy coastal elites. You can see this is true from their own statements and the actions of the media.

The Clintons are corrupt beyond any doubt. The Clinton Foundation is a phony charity; essentially a political slush fund that gives away less than 5% of its donations to charitable causes. Her email scandal and selling of US government State Department approvals for personal self enrichment has been well documented.

The Intercept Online News <https://theintercept.com> hosts journalist Glenn Greenwald and has fantastic exposes we never read about elsewhere. John Boehner goes to work as a lobbyist for China, naked stock shorting, Clinton Foundation corruption and many more. It's a fantastic source of what's really going on in the world.

The Clintons used Bill Clinton's speech revenue scam as the intermediary for Hillary selling government favors. Why won't the major media cover these frauds against the public? The government refuses to prosecute over-the-top criminality. Why?

Bankers like JP Morgan, Wells Fargo, Citi etc are engaged in repeated actions of criminal fraud against the entire world and not one banker is prosecuted as mega billions of fines are levied on these corporations. Why?

Look at Hillary's own words. She was recently interviewed by NBC's Matt Lauer. He went off script and actually asked her some real questions about her email scandal. After the show she reportedly went on a screaming tirade and demanded that he be fired.

<http://victuruslibertas.com/2016/09/temper-temper-killary-goes-on-rampage-for-over-an-hour-throwing-glass-at-staffers-head/>

Hillary's meltdown included throwing a water glass at a staffer- narrowly missing her head, and demanding Matt Lauer be fired! She was overheard threatening executives at NBC saying "If I lose, we all go down and that Fascist Fuck will have us swinging from nooses! What the fuck is wrong with you idiots?"

She screamed at her own staffer, Donna Brazile:

You stare at the wall like a brain dead buffalo, while letting fucking Lauer get away with this betrayal? Get the fuck to work janitoring this mess- do I make myself clear???

Matt Lauer receives a $25 million annual salary and lives in a $36 million dollar mansion. Walter Cronkite he ain't.

<https://pagesix.com/2016/06/24/matt-lauer-buys-richard-geres-36m-hamptons-compound/>

NBC helicopters him to work into NY each morning. No wonder Hillary was angry. He's in the club and he "betrayed" her by asking a real question. That's why these media front men are paid so much money – to play along with the agenda.

Mounting evidence shows that Hillary Clinton has suffered severe brain damage. As president she would control nuclear weapons. Her strange behavior demands a medical explanation but we get nothing from her campaign and no demands from the establishment media.

<http://williamengdahl.com/englishNEO24Aug2016.php>

Nothing, however, shows the corruption of the media like Hillary's recent speech to a crowd in Greensboro, NC. She wasn't really there. They green screened her into the scene and the proof is unequivocal. Look at his page which explains it in detail.

<http://www.washingtonsblog.com/2016/09/3-2-minute-videos-hillary-clinton-915-greensboro-nc-speech-without-present-every-cell-phone-recording-disappears-talking-prepared.html>

Also look at the second video clip where she's standing in front of the flag background. Stop the video at the 1:15 mark and slowly advance. This is what you'll see.

And then ...

This is proof that her image is a green screen overlay over the video taken in the hall. Her image feed is breaking up due to an encoding loss. You'll sometimes see this effect on the evening local weather report where the meteorologist is always standing in front of a green screen. Plus none of cell phones being held up show her on the stage – she isn't there.

This can only happen with the cooperation of the major media. They're all in cahoots to protect her candidacy despite her corruption and obvious severe health problems. They all know she can't climb stairs and has no energy. An ambulance with yellow flashing lights follows her campaign motorcades. Before a delayed local speech she was in a private tent for an hour with a medical crew. Hillary lashed out at Alex Jones' Infowars for pointing it out. He simply stated what everybody else in the media already knows.

The major media in America is totally corrupt. Near everything you read in the NY Times and on TV is pure propaganda. It's a "wag the dog" manipulation of public perception for the sake of maintaining control. The establishment is terrified of the changes about to happen. EVERYTHING they tell you must be questioned.

That control is slipping away. John Kerry as Secretary of State signed a cease fire with Russia to stop the war in Syria. A couple days later two F16 fighters and A10 planes shot up a Syrian military base killing 65 Syria soldiers and wounding 100. This was an attempt to ruin the cease fire and hit directly at President Obama's authority. Secretary of Defense Ash Carter likely ordered the attack in defiance of the president. Russia asked on the UN floor, "Who is in charge of the US military?." It isn't Obama, that's for sure.

<http://www.opednews.com/articles/Rogue-Mission-Did-the-Pen-by-Mike-Whitney-Bombing-Neocons-Pentagon-Putin-160920-49.html>

Here's what is really going on. The US military is run by fanatic neocons and Obama probably isn't in control. They're threatening Russia and China and trying to provoke a war. They need this now because if Trump takes over he'll shut them down. If they can't rig the election for Clinton then they want Trump to inherit a situation that he can't control. Russia and China are trying to avoid being dragged into a conflict where America can proclaim “aggression”. I expect the baiting to only escalate.

These realities aren't lost on the rest of the world. I expect to see a break between Europe and America and then a formal policy shift eastward to Asia. That's where Europe's bread is buttered and that's the future of world trade. China is offering third world nations an alternative source of funding away from the corrupt IMF with its austerity and looting strategy that has served American business interests so well for forty years. It's going to end.

Russia and China are offering Asia the “One Path One Road” concept sometimes called The New Silk Road. It's the integration of growing economies into broad trade agreements where the United States has no input. This enormous shift in global economic power means the unipolar era of America dominance is over. This and energy politics is why the US is threatening Russia/China, over-throwing governments, and generally causing chaos in the Middle East. Destabilized nations are too weak to take sides.

All that's needed now is a currency shift that will cut the legs off the US by destroying its dollar domination. In the first week of September the G20 nations met in China. Changes were made to the SDR currency basket bringing in China and reducing the US percentage. It goes into effect on October 1st. This is the first step.

On Oct. 7, 2016, the IMF will hold its annual meeting in Washington, D.C., to consider additional steps to expand the role of SDRs and make China an integral part of the new world money order.

Over the next several years, we will see the issuance of SDRs to transnational organizations, such as the U.N. and World Bank, to be spent on climate change infrastructure and other elite pet projects outside the supervision of any democratically elected bodies. (I call this the New Blueprint for Worldwide Inflation.)

Thereafter, the international monetary elite will await the next global liquidity crisis. When that crisis arrives, there will be massive issuances of SDRs to return liquidity to the world and cause global inflation. The result will be the end of the dollar as the leading global reserve currency.

Based on past practice, we can expect that the dollar will be devalued by 50–80% in the coming years.

All this turmoil and war could have been avoided if America's leadership had acted smart. Instead we got Dick Cheney and the neocons and now can't get rid of them. We lost the rule of law and our political leadership was corrupted.

Hillary represents the Coastal Elites. Sick or dying, it's too late to get anyone else. She's deeply enmeshed in the money and corruption - she's one of them. If elected, she'll be in permanent medical care, propped up in a chair or standing with a brace to make pronouncements. Who really runs the government will be unknown. The lie factory media is ok with that.

I'm amazed that the nation is so passive. The Fed is using fiat money to buy bonds (worthless iou's) to prop up phony markets. People will look back at these days and wonder with astonishment why nobody acted to protect themselves.

Change is here. Financially, it should be gradual but relentless. Politically it must happen faster because China and Russia need to derail US war plans. We'll never hear about these things from the US media so the effect will hit most Americans one day like a punch in the face. The rest of the world, like Elvis, will already have left the building.

Best regards,
Tom Gleason
